Ladder of Reconciliation

God is reconciling the world to Himself through Christ, bringing all of those who are cut off from Him into His blessing. I am teaching the children of the Third World how to live the life style prescribed by Jesus. It is through this life style that God will reconcile with those who are cut off from Him. It is through this life style that God will bring those who are cut off and cut out of the possibilities of this world into His blessing. It is through this life style that God will get rid of the world of poverty, social stagnation, makes it excels and prosperous.

The life style that Jesus Christ prescribed in His teachings is the path to the spirit. “It is the spirit that gives life”. Everything that we see and experience is sustained by the spirit. God wants to increase our spirit so that we can achieve great things.

The life style that Jesus Christ prescribed in His teachings taught us to deny ourselves, embrace each other weaknesses and shortcomings, forgive one another and love others as we love ourselves; this is the path to the spirit. He taught us to turn the other cheek that is to love our enemies and to look for alternatives to resolve our conflicts. In His teachings He taught us how to remove division among ourselves and help us overcome the disparities that separate us. His teachings are showing us how to love and forgive one another. His teachings taught us how to live upright and to seek justice so that we may be able to embody the spirit of God. God wants us to live upright so that we can embody the spirit that gives life, intelligence and the ability to prosper our lives.

To the children of the Third World who are cut off from God and His blessing, for those who have been denied their existence, cut off and cut out of the possibilities of this world; your hope now rest in Christ. For those of you who have been left behind and unable to attain success in life despites all of your efforts; you must live the life style prescribed by Jesus Christ for your life. This is your only path out of poverty and social stagnation and your freedom from the Third World Syndrome.

By living the life style prescribed by Jesus Christ, the spirit of God can come in your life, heal your scars, mend holes in your spirit and fill you up, help you free your mind of bewilderment and confusion, empower you to excel and prosper and bring you into the blessing of God.

Poverty and Social Stagnation are Legacies of the Third World

I would like to help change the legacy of the Third World!

The Third World problem is a quagmire, overcoming poverty and social stagnation in the Third World is too complex and too intricate of a problem for anyone to solve. It requires a divine revelation to pin the cause and unveil the machinery that is keeping the Third World behind. The cause for the Third World problem is too elusive and too fleeting for any man to say here is the solution; I can solve the Third World problem; it requires a collective effort.

The Third World

There is a world of people out there that are lagging behind. They are sluggish and less cognitive to the needs of their environments. They are cut off and cut out of the possibilities of this world. They made up the bulk of the third world population. I want to help them catch up with the rest of the world. I want to teach them about their possibilities in Christ. I want to introduce to them the life style that will guarantee them success in life. I want to help them excel and prosper in life. I want to help free them of the Third World mentality that is keeping them behind. I want to introduce to them the life style that can help heightening their cognitive ability and make them more aware and conscious of others and the needs of their environment. I want to help them break their fixation on the need that is driving their lives and free them to fulfill other needs that made up the human scale.

I sincerely believe that the solution to the Third World problem rest in people living the right life style. I want to introduce to them the life that guarantees them a heightened state of awareness. I want to introduce to them the pattern of life style prescribed by Christ for humanity to follow in order to find God. Christ said that: “I am the way and the life; I am the life and the light. If any man wants to follow Me, let him deny himself and let him pick up his cross and follow Me”. The life style of denying oneself, putting the needs of others before our own is the path to the spirit. “Let him deny himself; let him pick up his cross and follow Me. Let him embrace his humanity that is let him embrace the weaknesses and the shortcomings of his fellowmen. Let him help his fellowmen by uplifting them. “If you dwell in My words and My words remain in you, Me and My father we will come in and dwell with you”. If you follow the instructions I prescribed to you, Me and My father who are spirit, we will come in and live with you and uplift your spirit and fill you up. “Everything you do and everything you are rest on the spirit. It is the spirit that gives life and the ability to prosper and excel in life. Jesus said that you need to follow the instructions He prescribed to you in order to have the spirit and have more of it. “It is the spirit that gives life. I come so that you may have life and have it more abundantly”. I come to fill you up with the spirit. “My words are spirit and they are life”. If you keep My words you will surely have the spirit that gives life. You will have the power and the ability to understand the world you live in. You will know how your world operates and conquer the elements that stand in your way and make your life difficult for you.

Looking to Make a Difference!

Without a comprehensive plan to combat poverty and change conditions in the Third World our effort will not produce much. Our effort must include God in order to be maximized. We cannot exclude God out of our effort. We must include every facets of a human being and I believe that our effort should include God and God should take the center stage. Here is why.

When we talk about God we are talking about the spirit. God is spirit; and in any culture spirit and life and are interchangeable for it is God that sustains life, it is the spirit that sustains life. We need to address God in our effort, for it is the spirit that sustains the human conditions we see around us. We are attempting to change the human condition; we are attempting to change life trough the spirit.

God in any culture represents the spiritual father of man or the one who sustains life. Since in any culture spirit and life are interchangeable; we must approach the spirit of man if we want to affect life of man. We must approach the spirit if we want to change the conditions of life. This tutorial is not about religion but an effort to promote a pathway that will lead to the spirit, a pathway that will lead us to the energy that sustains the conditions of life. Since the conditions a man' life is his life, we must find the source of that life; we must find what is it sustains the conditions of this life.

So we begin this journey in our quest to eradicate poverty around the world by approaching the source that sustains poverty. We begin this journey with the search for the spirit. We want to know how the spirit grows and diminish; is there a way to acquire more of it, accumulate it or dissipated it? It would appear that some people have it more than others. I want to know why some people have it more than others and those who have it less, how can they increase it and have more of it.

We begin our quest from every classroom around the world. We want to begin this quest at an age when a human being is most pliable, most manageable, flexible and more capable of change; we begin it in the schools. Since life at the school age has just begin and has not yet established roots that can make it difficult to learn, it is our best chance to reach them there. Every child whatever country or religion he is raised has one thing in common, is more into life, therefore has more spirit. Our task is to teach every child around the world how to feed their spirit, keep it growing and not dissipate it by the time they reach adulthood. Like most adult who can experience the magical properties that make the life of a child more alive, more into living lost it by the time they reach adulthood and cannot explain what happened to it. Our task is to introduce every child to the teachings that can help him sustain the growth of his spirit throughout the stages of his life, from childhood to adulthood. You can be a Muslim, Christian, Jew, Buddhist, Hindu or even an Atheist, whatever religion or country you are there is one thing you cannot deny; that one thing is you, what make you, the person you are. Your intellectual prowess, your capacity to feel emotion your capacity to reason and make logical decisions, your moments of clarity and flashes of enlightenment, intuition are all parts of your spirit. You can have more of it and if you have more of it and by having more of it you have the capacity to change the conditions of your life, you can find solution to your problems, overcome obstacles in your paths, you can move up the ladder from being a third world individual to a flourishing and excelling individual.

Tutorial:

Consider Yourself at War; you are in a battle for your life!

This tutorial is about teaching you how to take a stand in life, how to see your struggles and calamities in life, not to see them as happening by chance but as consequences of a war that is taking place in your subconscious mind. The aim of this tutorial is to make you aware that you are in a battle and to help you find an ally that will help you win that battle.

How to achieve success in the classrooms and in life!

How do you view your life, how do you see yourself in life? Do you see yourself going through life sailing without opposition and that things are happening easily for you or do you see yourself oppose in every turn, struggling to achieve things in life. Do you welcome the opposition, get fierce in your stand against it or do you feel overwhelmed by it and ready to succumb to it. I will give you the key to achieve success in the classroom and in life.

The key to your success in life or in the class room is to consider yourself in a battle. You are in a battle for your life or soul. I say life or soul because the two are interchangeable; your soul is the sum total of your experiences in life. How much happiness you experience in life; your emotions, your feelings and intellectual prowess are all parts of your soul or the life you live. The life style you chose to live will determine your experiences in life, therefore your life is also your soul. You are in a battle for your soul. Consider the enemy in this battle is after your life and soul. In this battle you have an enemy and also an ally. Consider the enemy is out to destroy you, take away your life and make you miserable. The ally is out to protect you and gives you happiness. The enemy held you back and kept you in poverty; the ally is out to free you, prosper you and excel you to great heights. The enemy in this battle is after your soul, he instigated the leaders of your countries to sin against God, violating His law so that God can sanction them and that they may reap the consequences for violating the law of God. The enemy of your soul is creating gates of hell, turning your country into places where you will experience pain and suffering. This is how the enemy of your soul perpetuated poverty and social stagnation in your country. The enemy of your soul used these sanctions to justify keeping you in poverty, cutting you off out of the blessing of God and out of the possibilities of this world. Your ally is out to give you a future and a hope, excel you and make you prosperous He wants to make you just like Him, righteous and just. Your ally wants you to be happy, prosperous and excel to great heights. You get this ally to join you in your battle. By living upright you automatically invite this ally to join you in your battle. If you want this ally to join you in your battle, all you have to do is follow the life style this ally prescribed for you to live. You can get stronger and force your enemy to get weaker by following the life style prescribed by Jesus Christ. You can accumulate that energy by living upright or you can dissipate that energy by not living upright. This ally will only join with those who are just like Him; righteous and just. He wants you to live upright and just so that He can empower you to prosper and free you from this syndrome that kept you living in backwardness. Consider this battle to be a pulley, when you pull one end, the other end must come down, when one side get weaker the other side get stronger. You can enhance the quality of your life by the life style you chose to live. If you waste this energy by idle talks, live your life without order and discipline you make your ally weaker and your enemy stronger. How you live your life can help improve your intelligence. If you live your life right and follow the life style prescribed by your ally, you can heighten your cognitive ability, heighten your awareness and your ability to discern right from wrong, truth from falsehood. All in all your ally can help make you smarter. Consider the world you live to be a storehouse of energy; you can harness that energy and store or dissipate it by the way you live. Idle talk, lack of order and discipline can help dissipate that energy and living upright and orderly can help you accumulate and store that energy. In other word you can increase this energy and make it available for your ally to use to help you win your battle. Let's call this energy spirit. "It is the spirit that gives life; everything you do in life depends on the spirit".

Asking You This Question and Be Frank To Answer It Honestly!

Why do you see yourself at war? Why do you consider your life to be a battle? Why do you see the challenges in your life as an opposition? Why do you see the world in terms of opposites? Why do you see the world in terms of enemy and ally?

Let me now answer the question for you!

You see the world that way because this is the way the world is. You are living in a world of duality. There are two opposing forces in the world that determined how you experience life. There is an opposing force that restrained and constrained you from advancing forward. This force is there to keep you behind. Why this force affects you more than other people doesn't matter; what matter the most is that you accept the fact that you are in a battle for your experiences in life or soul. What matter is that you know that there is an opposing force that is available to you as an ally if you live your life upright and just? This other force is there as an ally to help you counteract the effects of the opposing force that is there to restrain you and keep you behind. This force is there to help you excel and propel you forward. By accepting the reality of this world that you are in a battle for what you will experience in life, you can chose to live right and just and have an ally to defend you or not live right and succumb to your enemy and be held back and restrained.

Do You Ever Consider Why Your World Lags Behind?

Do you know why people in your world cannot achieve great things? Do you know why they cannot come together collectively, why they are bewildered, confuse and unable to see and hear the same vision as their fellow citizens? Do you know why your leaders and people in position of power in your world are insensitive to the needs of their environments? Are they unable to perceive the same reality that people outside your world sees? What makes them insensitive to the needs of their environments, why they are not responsive as other western people do? Is it because they cannot see or perceive the reality of their world? Is there a lack, a missing link of some sort? Is there a disease, a deformity that prevent them from functioning like the rest of people in the western world, keeping them from seeing reality as the rest of the world sees it? Why is there such communality between the Third World people, what make them common and the same? What are the characteristics that make them all alike?

Again I Will Answer this Question!

It is because they are all affected by the Babel Syndrome. They are suffering from the syndrome that produces the Third World mentality.

How to Remedy People Suffering From the Babel Syndrome?

It begins in the classroom, from an early age, teaching them as I am teaching you now how to overcome the Third World Syndrome. You need an ally. You need to know how to accumulate the spirit. In other word you need the spirit of God and the only way to the spirit of God is trough the life style prescribed by Jesus Christ His son. If you were to scientifically measure idle talking, you can actually measure the spiritual energy that you are dissipating. By living a certain way you can actually store that energy and accumulated it for future use. God made provision for us to learn how to accumulate that energy. We get that provision trough the teachings of Jesus Christ. He left for us a pattern or a life style to fallow. Turning the other cheek, forgive one another, avoid come to blow with one another, love others as we love ourselves, embrace our humanity by helping the poor, helping the lame, helping the widow, give to those in need, live upright, practice justice, this is how you accumulate the spirit and have an ally; this is the pattern of life style Jesus Christ left for us to fallow.

Literally Jesus!

I want to establish a link between Jesus Christ, His teachings and the spirit, between the spirit and intelligence and between intelligence and blessing. I want to show a link between the spirit and our cognitive ability, our ability to see and perceive, having a heighten state of awareness, our ability to make logical decisions, our intuitive ability, our verbal fluency, a link between the spirit and all the necessary tools that empowered us to have dominion over our world, over the elements and our environment.

Jesus Christ literally, what it means to fallow Jesus Christ and His teachings.

“All have gone astray, everyone his way and the government of the world is rested on His shoulders”.

Christ came to unify us into one spirit, those who are bewildered, confused, unable to hear and understand each other vision, unable to perceive the same vision, hear the same thing as each other, Christ came to unite us by one spirit. “In you and in your seed, all the family of the earth shall be blessed”. God accounted Abraham righteous for his good living, his deeds and the way he carried himself. Because Abraham obeyed the law of God, the commandments of God and the statutes of God; God will bless us after such pattern. Jesus is the personification of righteousness, the result of what righteous living bring, the measure of the righteousness that God wants us to reach. Jesus is the seed of the righteousness of Abraham. Jesus is imparting that righteousness to us so that God may empower us with the ability to see and hear the same vision, aware of what is happening and comprehend our world. It is the gifts that the spirit gives that give us dominion over our world, over the elements and the obstacles that stand in our way. It is the gifts of the spirit that make us bless. God wants to impart to us righteous living so that He can infuse in us His spirit and that we may be blessed.

“With is winnowing fan, He shall separate the wheat from the chaff, but the chaff He shall consume with unquenchable fire. An after me shall come the One, He will baptize you with spirit and fire”. Jesus is the path to the spirit and the way for us to get to the spirit is trough righteous living. Jesus left us a pattern of life style to fallow. He said:” I am the way and the life, I am the life and the light”. Jesus is the way to the spirit that gives us the light, therefore the light of the world. Jesus taught us the path to the spirit and it is the spirit that gives life; therefore Jesus is the life and the light. “If a man walks with Me, he shall not walk in darkness but has the light of day”. In other word, if you fallow the life style prescribed by Jesus, you will have the light of the spirit. You will be able to see your way out of a dark situations, you will be able to solve problems, because you will have the intuition or moments of clarity brought to you by the light of the spirit, you will be able to communicate well with your fellowmen, you will be fluent with words, you will know how to fix things, overcome obstacles out of your path. “I am the way and the life”. Jesus is the life style that makes all that possible. Jesus is the life style that we must fallow in order to arrive at the spirit that gives us all of these possibilities... All of these possibilities are the gifts of the spirit. “It is the spirit that gives life”. “Every thing that we do and everything that we are rest on the spirit”. The ability to see and understand what we see, all of these things gives us the extra edge we need to cope with the obstacles in our world. They are parts of the blessing of God that come from righteous living. If you live right and if you fallow the path left by Jesus Christ for us to fallow you will surely find the spirit that gives life.

“The Chaff He will burn with unquenchable fire”

Who are the chaffs? The chaff are those that are left behind, cut off and cut out of the possibilities of this world, they are cut off from the blessing of God. They are bewildered and confuse, they cannot come together as a unit to accomplish great things, solve their collective problems, and they are suffering from the Babel Syndrome. They tried and they cannot succeed; they will build and God will tow down, because they are not guided by the inner light of the spirit. They spiritual inheritances are flawed and God cannot allow them to succeed. “He will burn with unquenchable fire” They will suffer the baptism of fire. They will be whirl into a world they are not accustomed to. They will be yanked out of their slumber. They will be forced into a new demarche a new pace of living. They will be driven to excel and move forward. They will be baptized by fire.

Literally Jesus Christ!

Because Abraham obeyed the law of God, the commandments of God and the statutes of God; God accounted him righteous for his deeds. For his righteousness God gave us Jesus as pattern to follow. By accepting Jesus as the Christ or as the one sent by God to make us righteous we pledge our lives to follow the foot steps of Abraham and be counted righteous by God as He counted Abraham righteous. By accepting Jesus as the mark set by God to achieve righteousness, we can be judged righteous and become the righteousness of God through Jesus Christ. Another way of putting it is to say that by accepting the life pattern of Jesus Christ as the measure of righteousness that God wants us to become, we become righteous as God intended it and inherit the right to receive the spirit of God. “If you dwell in My word, Me and My father we will come in and dwell with you”.

If we accept the teachings of Jesus Christ and follow the life style He prescribed to us, He and the Father who is spirit will come in and dwell with us. As the spirit of God takes residence inside of us we become filled with His spirit. It is the spirit of God that empowered us to prosper in life, to have wealth and be in health. It is the spirit of God that gives us the entrance to the blessing of God. It is the spirit of God that gives us the possibilities to partake in the abundance of this world. “At the end, I will pour My spirit on all flesh”. “All knees shall be bent at the revelation of the Son of God”. God intent is to bless the humanity as a whole. “In you and in your seeds I will bless all the family of the earth”. Through Christ God will fill the earth with His spirit; through the spirit of God, God will bless all the family of the earth. “It is the spirit that gives life”. “I come so that you may have life and have it more abundantly”. Jesus is the gate to the spirit of God. It is the spirit of God that frees us from the syndrome of the third world mentality. “The spirit of God is upon Me because he had anointed me to preach the gospel to the poor, to set free the captives, to give sight to the blind and to set at liberty them that are bruised”. Whatever that is holding us behind into a life of suffering, the spirit of God can free us from it and Jesus is the gate or the password to the spirit of God. “I am the Christ and upon this revelation, I will build My church and the gates of hell shall not stand against it”. Upon the revelation that Jesus is the Christ, the One chosen by God to give us access to His spirit, I will make my following and those who follow Me shall not succumb to the forces that cause them pain and suffering; they will not enter into a life of suffering and misery and experience hell on earth. They will not enter the gates of hell.

What Makes Christianity Different to Other Religions?

Christianity is forever intertwined with humanity. To be a Christian is to find God in the midst of our daily lives. It is to see God in the aspect of a father. It is to develop a personal relationship with God. There will arrive a point in that relationship when God has to be God all by Himself, revealing Himself to be almighty. “I will say of the Lord He is my God in Him I will trust”. There is a clear line of separation that makes it not encumbering upon man to make God who and what He is but for God to reveal Himself to be God in the life of man. “His ways are not our ways and His thoughts are not are thoughts”. One of the attributes that makes God, God is that He is a giver of life. He makes the almond tree bloom in the middle of winter and brings to life dry bones. Where God is there is life and his absence brings death.

What makes Christianity different than other religions is the path it takes us to find God. Some religion chant in order to find God, some use meditation and still others use prayers and praises but Christians are required to live the life prescribed by Jesus. Christianity is a life style. He said that: “I am the way and the life, the life and the light”. To find God as a Christian is not to live in darkness but to be enlightened. It is to know our way out of dark situations. It is to find inspiration and revelation to solve our problems. It is to be aware and conscious of our selves at all time and cognizant of the world around us. To find God as a Christian is more than the manifestations of power and might or miracles, it is to have a new life with a new spiritual identity. It is to be able to open the windows of heaven and bring heaven down to earth and bring earth up to heaven. “Behold a ladder was set up on the earth and its top reach to heaven; there the angels of God where ascending and descending on it”. “Whatsoever you bind on earth will be bound in heaven and what you bind in heaven will be bound on earth”.

The Inevitable!

There is no great mystery about the plan of God for humanity, all God wants from us is for us to become righteous as He is and that He can bless us. Without righteousness His spirit cannot dwell in us and without His spirit we don't have the resources we need to cope with our environments and improve the conditions of our lives; we cannot turn the earth into the paradise as God originally planned it. In the beginning God created man, placed him in a garden, there he lack nothing. Man lived a blessed life without lack and wants; man lived in paradise.

“In you and in your seeds, I will bless all of the family of the earth”. “At the end I will pour My spirit on all flesh”. “It is the spirit that gives life”. It is the spirit that helps us improve the condition of our lives. It is the spirit that gives us the ability that we need to control the elements, to control the environment, gives us the power to overcome obstacles out of our path and allows us to excel and prosper in life. Therefore it is through the spirit that God will bless all of the family of the earth.

We gain strength when we embrace our humanity, our suffering; hence come the term pick up our cross and follow Me. When we embrace each other weaknesses and shortcomings, help one another, forgive one another; these are the teachings of Christ. Christ invites us to pick up our cross that is He wants us to embrace the sufferings of our fellowmen. “Let him deny himself”. Let him act selflessly toward each other, put others needs before his own. This is how we inherit this promise. “If a man walks with Me, he shall not walk in darkness, but has the light of day”. By deny ourselves and embrace the sufferings of our fellowmen we gain the right to the light of the spirit and to the blessing of God. The blessing of God comes from the spirit. It is the light of the spirit that gives us the ability to see our way out of dark situations and to have dominion over the obstacles in our path. It is the light of the spirit that makes us bless.

Why you are left to lag behind, dwell in a state of bewilderment and confusion, cut off and cut out of the possibilities of this world; why are you unable to achieve success despite all of your efforts. It is because you cannot do much without the spirit of God. You are lacking the spirit that gives life and makes it possible for you to achieve and excel. You are in a class all by yourself. You are suffering from a syndrome that keeps you deficient of cognition. You are deficient in spirit. You will be tried by fire. You will be jolted out of your slumber. You will be forced to pick up the pace and enter in an accelerated mode of living. What you fail to do willingly, you will do forcefully.

Circumstances will force you to take inventory of yourself. You are lagging behind; you need to practice the life style that will allow you to accumulate the spirit. You need to follow the pattern of life left for you by Jesus Christ so that you may have more of the spirit that will help you improve the condition of your life. You need the spirit to succeed and your only way to the spirit is to follow the pattern of life style left by Jesus Christ for you to follow. There are other paths to the spirit, but the only one sanctioned by God for you is the one left by Jesus Christ. This pattern is humanity in the making. It is what makes us human. It is where we draw our strength and power.

Understand the Cause of Poverty: The Babe Syndrome

All is in all, everything is intertwined with everything else, the works of the devil are too elusive, too fleeting for us to pin down, and we can only see them in reflection. We need the light of Christ to help us unveil the works of the devil. What is happening in the world, the poverty that is so persistent, the Negation that keeps blacks lagging behind all around the world, the state of bewilderment and confusion that prevail in the third World are all of the works of the devil.

The Babel Syndrome as it is often called: Third World mentality, is a bewildered and confusing state of mind where people cannot hear and see the same vision nor can come together as one to accomplish great things. I will say that those who are of that state of mind are of the ascending order of life. They live their lives in a state of fixation. Their attentions are fixated on a primary need, the need for survival. They cannot break their fixation and reach other levels of awareness outside of their immediate fixation. They lag behind in many ways. They live their lives in a state of stagnation. They are the source of poverty in the world. They come into the world to receive blessing from God, but the devil stands in their way, using Negation to hold them in their state of fixation. The Third World is the realm of darkness. The people of the Third World live in a state of bewilderment and confusion.

“And behold a ladder was set up on the earth and its top reach to heaven, there the angels of God were ascending and descending on it”.

Jesus is the ladder of reconciliation, reconciling the world to God, bringing those who are cut off from Him into the blessing. Consider the world to be a school where countries and nations are the classrooms, which country a person is born depends on the law of God. The law of God assigns a person to either an ascending or descending order. We are all angels of God caught in the law by sin. We are born in the world, into a country, a family that will determine the outcome of our lives. Each country has its place in the plan of God, the devil is busy turning countries into gates of hell where people will experience pain and suffering. It is our duties to bring the light of Christ into the works of the devil. Jesus came to undo the works of the devil, to bring us life and brings life more abundantly. The devil came to destroy and to rob us of our happiness, through pain and suffering he established his kingdom. Christ came to destroy the works of the devil and establish the kingdom of God. Jesus is the Christ, the burden remover and the yoke destroyer, knowing this truth will make the gates of hell powerless against you. What are gates of hell? Gates of hell are places of birth. When a man enters this world, he enters through a place where he incurs judgments. Judgments are placed upon him according to sin or iniquity of his forefathers. What forces will influence his life, is he going to be born in a poor family, a poor country or the opposite are all determined by the law of God. The devil cannot impose on us anything which the law does not allow him.

The devil used the law of God or the judgments of the law to establish his kingdom.

“The law of God is perfect converting the soul, the judgment of the Lord is true and righteous altogether”.

Jesus said:

“Upon this revelation that I am the Christ, the burden remover and the yoke destroyer, the gates of hell shall not prevail against you knowing that truth”.

The Babel Syndrome or Third World Mentality

My aim is to help change the machinery that continued to create poverty and social stagnation in the world; my aim is to help free people of the syndrome that creates Third World Mentality.

What is the Babel Syndrome or Third World Mentality? Here is an example Third World Mentality.

What makes a well educated and financially well-off individual drives his SUV everyday to the market place, buys his food in a filthy market and not bother with flies and the cinch that rise up his nose? What makes such an individual insensitive and irresponsive to the needs of his environment? There is inertia, a lack of cognition, a sluggishness that makes this individual empathic to the world where he lives. There is indifference, a lack of care, a kind of fixation on self, an overwhelming need for acquiring things, as if driven by a primal need for survival, completely oblivious to the needs of others; this is typical of a third world mentality.

What are the characteristics of a third world person? Why is there communality among the Third World people? There is bewilderment, confusion, lack of coherence, lack of cognitive ability, an inability to link thoughts with others, the ability to perceive the same vision and to come together collectively, unite behind a single idea as one to achieve great things. These are the characteristics of a Third World mentality.

I believe that education is the key to change condition in the Third World, however there required a separate education, a curriculum apart from what is usually taught in the classroom. I believe that life style is the key to change the condition of the Third World and free the people of the Babel Syndrome.

Consider the whole world to be a school; college or university, a learning institution of some sort and the countries of the world are the classrooms. These classrooms are graded by levels of awareness and the levels of awareness are measured on the scale of human needs. Human beings are driven by needs, our conscious mind are preoccupied at one time or another by one need or another. When a particular need grab our attention and our consciousness becomes fixated on it; it is this fixation that determines our level of awareness. There is usually a particular need that preoccupies the collective consciousness of a people causing a country to enter into a state of fixation. It is this state of fixation that becomes the driving force of that country. It is this fixation that also determines the level of awareness of that country. There are levels of awareness, the level of awareness each country occupied is determined by the level of need that preoccupies the collective consciousness of the people.

My aim is to help break the fixation that keeps a country or its people bound to a particular level of awareness. My aim is to make people free and flexible enough to move along the whole scale of human needs. Human needs are prioritized by level of importance, starting from the most primal need to the highest need, from survival to the divine. It is the fixation on a given need that determines the level of awareness of an individual or collectively a country.

Consider all of the Third World countries to be in a state of fixation, driven by a particular need. Usually this need is a primal need that occupied the consciousness of the people; make them oblivious the all other human needs. My aim again is to help them that fixation, make them fluid and flexible so that they can move along the whole range of human needs or levels of awareness.

I see a potential for the LOPC project. I believe that education is the key to eradicate poverty around the world but with the right knowledge. I believe that I can incorporate the gift of a computer to a child around the world with the knowledge that will help change their lives. Imagine the world to be a place of terror, knowledge and understanding have made it less terrifying to live. I want to bring them the knowledge that will help change their lives. I want to bring them a new life style that guaranteed a change in the inner life. If there are going to be any change, a fundamental change in the third world; that change must first come within.

I want to bring to the children of the Third World the life style that guarantees the inner light of the spirit:

Why Enlightenment, Spirit and Life Style are Interchangeable

Why do we need to live the life style prescribed by Jesus Christ? We need to live the life style prescribed by Jesus Christ so that we can have the light of Christ that will dispel the darkness of this world

“I am the way and the life; I am the life and the light”. “In Him was life and the life was the light of man; the bible is talking about life style. Tom Cruise visited Japan and discovered that there is spirituality in the life style of the people of Japan. I believe that the way we live our lives and the style we chose for our lives will determine how much of the spirit we have in us. It is possible to have more of the spirit, acquire more of it and store more of it by the way we live our lives. “I come so that you have life and have it more abundantly”. It is the spirit that gives life and it is the life that we live that makes it possible to have more of the spirit. There is a relationship between the way we live our lives and our cognitive ability. “Everything we do and everything we are repose on the sprit; it is the spirit that gives life”. Carlos Castaneda says that it is possible to live our lives by the spirit, store the spirit or make it dissipate by our idle talks. Spirituality is all around us, but we don’t know how to how measure the spirit, know who has the spirit, when do we know that something is of the sprit, add to the sprit or taken away from the sprit.

Superstitious fears dissipate the sprit, while deliberate living adds to the spirit. It is possible to be walking dead, become vacuum cleaners sucking up all spiritual energies around us by the way we live. “If a man walks with Me, he shall not walk in darkness but has the light of day. If he walks in the dark and stumble, it is because the light is not in him”... If a man lives in the midst of people who don't live by the rules of the spirit live their lives in darkness and if the darkness is all around him and cannot see his way out of the dark, it is because he does not have the inner light of the spirit, he does not have the intuition and the cognitive ability to perceive and understand the needs of his environment.

It is important for us to understand the spirit and how to have more of it, because God says that He will bless all the family of the earth and that at the end of time he will pour His spirit on all flesh. We must look forward the baptism of the spirit promised by God before we can be blessed for it is the spirit that gives life. “After me shall come the One who will baptize you; he will baptize you with spirit and fire”. John was referring to Jesus Christ. Jesus said that He is the way and the life, the life and the light, therefore we need to follow the life prescribed by Jesus Christ so that we may have the spirit and receive the blessing of God.

Life style is the key to change poverty and social stagnation and free the Third World of the syndrome that keeps the Third World people behind.

A Sure Way to Break the Fixation

Breaking the fixation of our attention on ourselves and place it on God is a sure way to free ourselves and be able to move our attention on other levels of human needs. When we entered this world we are forced to focus our attention on a particular need. We see and relate to people in the world through that need. The need for recognition, the need for subsistence, the need for procreation are some the needs that captured our attention and caused us to enter into a state of fixation. The key to break that fixation that keeps us operating at a Third World level is for us to learn to cast our cares upon God.

“Cast all your cares upon Me”. This is the key. As we relinquish our cares upon God we are able to break the fixation of our attention on any given need. When a person is born into the world, his consciousness enters into a state of fixation. His consciousness becomes preoccupied by a particular need. That need becomes the driving force in the person's life. It causes us to exclude all other needs. We become unable to operate in the world at our full human potential; one need takes precedence over all other need.

Intuition, inspiration, vision and other higher needs are not explored. As a result of our fixation we become one dimensional being; often our lives are plagued by bewilderment and confusion. We cannot understand each other thoughts and feelings making it impossible to join together collectively to achieve great things. We are caught in a third world mentality often called the Babel Syndrome. This state of bewilderment is the cause for poverty in the third world. One remedy for it is for us to learn to cast our cares upon God. “Take My yoke upon you”. This means that to join with Me, casting your burden upon Me. We are in it together; with My help you can do it. I can help you break your fixation of yourself by placing it on Me. Your need, I can help you fulfill so that you can be free to explore other needs.

In Search of a Solution

I want to transform the Haitian culture, and expend it so that it can serve other people from other cultures. A culture is the soul of a people; it is reflected in the music, art and dance. It is what binds people together as a unit; it is also what connects them to the outside world. When a nation stops growing; we must look at the dance, the art and the music to get a feel or reflection of what is going on in the soul of the people. The human soul comprised the intellect and the emotions; they determine our experiences in life. If I were to express in a mathematical equation the value of life, the soul will be equal to our life experiences. The Haitian people have stopped growing; something has stunned their growth. I am in a quest to find out the root cause for it.

Man is a dual entity; he is an individual and also part of a collective. He belongs to a country, a nation or people. I want to know if the human condition in Haiti such as poverty, social stagnation the result of deeds of individual Haitians or the consequences of some cosmic scheme that no individual can be responsible for. I see a communality in all the different cultures of black people around the world. I want to know if that communality not the result of a greater scheme. I want to know if the Haitian condition is not the result of this greater plan set by God. I see that all of the black cultures have one thing in common; they are all lingering behind. I am in a quest to find out the cause for stagnation in black cultures around the world. I want to know what it is that is holding them back and keeping them behind. [I may know the cause and the solution; however I want to take a journey of discovery.] I want to take the steps with you to show you what make the people the same in every black culture. I want you to show you why they are lagging behind.

I want to begin this journey with the collective; with what's makes a country, a nation or people a unit. I am always amazed at the tenacity of the Jews to endure as a people; at what it is that makes them unique in their identity and unbroken despites all adversities. I want to know what it is that keeps them together as a people despites loosing their country and living in exile for years. I want to know the reason why they still remained together a people. I came to know the reason quite by accident one day; when I overheard a host of a Jewish radio station said: tradition. The host said that tradition is what keeps the Jewish people together. I believe that if tradition is what gives the Jewish people their unique identity and keep them together, then there is a parallel with them and the Haitian people. The Haitian people despites living with adversities and terror in their lives are still holding on to the voodoo tradition. They are one and in one accord when it comes to voodoo. They believe that voodoo is the source of their strength, the source for their freedom and their hope out of poverty. I believe that the two cultures are parallel because they are both holding on to their tradition, where one tradition allowed one people to prosper and excel while the other tradition holds back and restrained. I want to know what it is in one tradition that allows its people to prosper and excel and the other keeps its people in decays and lingering behind. One can see clearly the duality of life in action in these two cultures. One excels and prospers because God is in it, the other one doesn't because God is absent in it. The reality of the two cultures is obvious; one flourish and excel the other stagnate and lag behind. Now what I want to know if the Haitian condition is caused by the voodoo tradition or is it the cause of a greater scheme?

Speaking of the greater scheme, why blacks all over the world are lagging behind?

Because there is communality between the cultures of black people around the world, because they are all suffering the same fate, stagnate and lingering behind, I must say that it must be a greater scheme beyond any individual person can change. I must conclude that the cause is a cosmic scheme beyond the power of any single individual.

If so, does it matter that anyone tries to change it? What if Martin Luther King did not fight for civil rights for black people in this country, conditions would have still remained the same. I believe that it is the duty of every individual to try to change the human condition, rather he will succeed or not. I still believe that God redeemed humanity as a whole yet it is still encumbering upon us individuals to accept it.

Thou the gift of salvation is available to all not all take advantage of it. I refuse to accept this fatalistic view that no matter of our individual efforts we cannot change the collective. I believe as it takes one candle to light many as so it takes one man to set precedence for many, to serve as pattern for others to follow.

The Beauty and the Beast

Is Haiti another victim of the same fate that befallen every black culture around the world or the result of the voodoo tradition that has held Haitians back since their conception as a nation. Haitians and Jews are two separate cultures with two different set of knowledge and arriving at two different set of realities. The reason for sousing these two cultures as examples is that one has the right kind of knowledge and the other one doesn't.

Knowledge is power; only the right kind of knowledge when apply will lead people to the right kind of power. "My words are spirit and they are life"; which means that My words are knowledge that I give you and they are food for your spirit. This knowledge will make your spirit grow and expend your life. The right kind of knowledge that Jesus is talking about is the knowledge that lead you to a better life. A better life is salvation; you are redeemed from a life of pain and suffering. When the Samaritan woman questioned Jesus about the difference between His religion and hers, she was asking Him about the difference in their way of worshiping God. Worshipping is our way of getting spiritual strength, increase our spirit. He answered her saying that she was worshiping what she does not know or she did not have the right kind of knowledge about God, she did not have the right kind of knowledge that lead to the spirit, but Him he does. He was saying to her that she did not have the right kind of knowledge that will lead her to God; and that the right kind of knowledge that will lead to God was given to the Jews. The Jews know how to find it. "Salvation was given to the Jews". Time is now for the world to have the right kind of knowledge that will lead to the spirit. "God is spirit and them that worship Him shall worship Him in sprit and in truth". The time is now when this knowledge is given to all that seek the spirit; not to her race or to the Jews but to all that seek the sprit. They need the right kind of knowledge that will lead them to the sprit. "If you love Me, feed My sheep". If you love me teach people the truth, the right kind of knowledge that will give them the power of life. "My words are sprit and they are life". The spirit has the power of life. My words are the knowledge you need to show you the way to the sprit, show you the source of power that gives life.

“You worship what you don’t know and we worship what we know”. Because you don’t have the right kind of knowledge, you will not find the truth spirit that give life. You will not find God. You cannot worship God if you cannot find Him and you cannot find Him if you don’t have the right kind of knowledge. You will not have the power you need to improve your life. “For salvation come from the Jews”. Only to the Jews were given the right kind of knowledge that will lead them to God. Why the Jews prosper and excel and why the Haitian don’t; why the Haitian linger and lag behind; it is because the Jews have the right kind of knowledge and the Haitian don’t. The knowledge that the Haitian have don’t lead them to power because that knowledge does not lead to the true spirit. “To the Jews were given salvation”; to the Jews were given the right kind of knowledge that will empower them. The power you need is the power that leads you to life, improve your life, not holding you back and keeping you in stagnation. Israel is eighty percent desert, the land is barren, yet the people prosper amidst the desert. They overcome their enemies despites been out numbered. Even in exile they prosper, because they had the right kind of knowledge.

Knowledge is Power

Knowledge is power; you need the right kind of knowledge that will lead you to God the right source of power. God is spirit and spirit gives power. “It is the spirit that gives life”. “My words are spirit and they are life”. Why the knowledge possessed by the Haitians doesn’t lead them to life. Without life there is no power, there is only a reflection of power. Life, power and spirit are interchangeable; if there is one without the other there is no balance, there is only death. There is death in the Haitian voodoo tradition because there is no life in it, the knowledge that leads to the voodoo power only brings death, therefore nullify its power. That knowledge is misleading because it is only lead to a reflection of power never the real thing, never to the life giving spirit. Look at Israel and the Jews; they have the right kind of knowledge. What they are able to accomplish with what they have explains the fact that they have the right kind of knowledge. They are able to flourish in the middle of a desert. They are able to survive despites surrounded by many enemies. We Haitians don’t have the right kind of knowledge, because that knowledge doesn’t lead to the improvement of our lives. There is no better comparison than Haiti and Israel when it comes to the right kind of knowledge. The Israelites have the right kind of knowledge because they don’t have any mistrust between them; they don’t have to go to God to protect them against one another. They have a sense of community. They are able to hear and speak the same vision. They are able to function as one people. “Where there is unity God commends the blessing”. “We worship what we know and you people worship what you don’t know”. We worship the life giving spirit because that knowledge was given to the Jews.

As Haitians, you fallow the traditions passed on to you by your ancestors without knowing the source, not knowing what is required. Your sons and daughters are claimed by demons spirits that present themselves as dead ancestors, they are taking them one by one from this earth without fulfilling their destinies. These demons spirit cannot give life, improve the condition of life or have anything to do with life. They only have to do with death. They are a reflection of life, not life. Why is it that you are still accepting such demonical activities without questioning them? You need to know what benefits they bring to your lives and know how they can improve your lives. You need to know the facts; you need to know if these spirits are following the order of the universe. If they don't they cannot help you. They are using you for their own purpose. You need to know the will of God or you will remain their slaves. These demons that you are worshipping have no legal standing in this world. They need you to operate. Why must you give them access and let them make your lives miserable. You are doing something that you don't know. You don't know the consequences of what you are doing. Your country is trashed because of them. You are look down upon by people around the world. These demons that you are worshipping have their own limitations. They cannot help you progress in this world. They don't have the authority. Their powers can only operate in the dark, not in the open. God wants you to develop your own abilities and not to depend on spirits that have no power to push you forward. The ancients civilization such as the Incas of Peru, the Aztecs of Mexico are no longer here with us as a people because the world has left them behind. They could no longer conform to the order of the universe. They were bent on holding to their ancient ways. They were not flexible enough to make the shift. They could not keep up with the advent of modern civilizations. They were one dimensional being. The knowledge they possessed was their downfall. Such fate also awaits Haiti. When the past no longer fits to carry us into the future, you have no future. Right now the future of Haiti is bleak. Haiti is losing its sovereignty as a nation. There is no law and order. The land cannot support anyone who wants to do good.

How Can the Haitians Change the Voodoo Tradition in Which Their Lives Are So Deeply Rooted?

An open society free of fear and mistrust is the solution to the Haitian problem. The Haitians keep hording the voodoo tradition because they seek protection from its power. One of the promises of voodoo is that it offers protection from evil spirits to those who practice it. There is a mistrust that is build in the psyche of the Haitian people that others are out to do them harm. Most Haitians seek voodoo protection because they fear that their neighbors, strangers or even family members may harm them for a gain. They need the voodoo power to protect them. What they fail to realize is that the power they seek in the voodoo does not improve their lives but make it worst. It brings them mistrust and bread fear among them. They need to wake up and smell the coffee. Their lives are crumbling around them, they are degraded and look down upon by other people; they need some power that will uplift their spirit, not bring it down. They don't need any false power that will offer them protection from their own people. Whatever power they seek, if it does not improve their lives, it is good for nothing. You don't need it to defend against anyone; you don't have to fear your neighbor because you should love your neighbor as yourself. Most Haitians believe that they need that power for their protection. What they should ask themselves is protection from whom. "God has not given us the spirit of fear, but the spirit of love and of sound mind". Salvation is from the Jews because the knowledge they received leads them to God. God is spirit, God is salvation for it is the spirit that gives life, and it is the spirit that empowered you to improve your life. Now if the knowledge you posses does not lead you to the spirit that will empowered you to improve your life it is not the spirit of your salvation, it is not of God. Why do the Haitians insist in applying a knowledge that leads them to a false power? Why possessed such knowledge; why even seeking after it? Since the power the Haitians received from their knowledge of voodoo does not improve their lives, it is not true power; it is only a reflection of the real thing. God is the only real power for it is the only power that brings salvation, improve lives. “I come so that you may have life and have it more abundantly”. I come to give you the spirit, My words are spirit, the knowledge I give you is your path to the spirit, it is the spirit that gives life, it is the spirit that help you improve your life, it is the spirit that is your salvation, God is your salvation, Jesus is your redeemer. The Haitians need to accept the fact that the knowledge they possessed don't give them true power. If that power does not help them improve their lives, however spectacular it seems to be, it is false and only a reflection of the real thing, it is not true power.

I don't believe that the Haitians seek deliberately after this knowledge, the knowledge they have inherited came from the voodoo tradition passed on to them by their ancestors. They inherit it from their ancestors. God said that He will give the inheritance of those who practice wickedness to the jackals of the wilderness. Thou they build, He will tow down. God does not intend for them to succeed in their endeavor. Whatever power they seek, they will be defeated. There are two predominant traits in the Haitian voodoo tradition; one is fear and the other mistrust. Yet God said that He had not given us the spirit of fear but of sound mind. Which means that we should be clear headed at all the time.

There are many ways to explain the reason why the Blackman is lagging behind. One can say that it is a universal principle or law; or that some forces are at work in the world is responsible. The Blackman is not responsible for his condition; he is simply a victim of forces beyond him. It is easier to say that negation is the cause and Christ is the solution. Christ is the solution because Christ leads us to God, the source, the spirit that sustains and gives life. We cannot do anything thing without the spirit therefore it is encumbering upon us to seek after the spirit if we want to change the condition of our lives.

Tales of Terror

You can hear it in the music, in the fables and in tales coming from people all over the Haitian communities. They give you a clear picture of what is going on in the soul of the Haitian people. Only recently reported in the Miami Herald the tale of eight Haitians deported back to Haiti for taking part in the resurrection of dead people. Seven of them were US citizen or legal residents yet this country was willing to send them back because this country doesn't want anything to do with such terror. Why were the Haitians engaged in such activity; I believe because they had the power. They had that power; they have used it before against their own countrymen and now they want to use it in this country. That knowledge was passed on to them by their ancestors. If knowledge is power, the Haitian power does not embrace life nor add to life; rather it takes away from life. It is a false power; because it is a reflection of power. It gives the impression that it empowered the individual, but rather it disarms the individual from accomplishing great things in life. Had this knowledge improve the living condition in Haiti, it would give the Haitians power; then it would not be a power in reflection but in actuality; it would be true power. What I am trying to do is to convince the Haitian people the futility of holding on to something that lead them no where, instill in them a false hope and causing the world to look down on them. I believe that it is time for the Haitian people to rise up, take off the veil that kept them mesmerized face up reality. True power is what helps change lives. Are their lives change by this power; I think not. I think that it is time for the Haitian people to renounce this knowledge that kept them in bondage and begin to embrace true knowledge that will lead them to the spirit, the spirit that gives life. They need to fallow the life style prescribed by Jesus. You can see the teachings of Jesus Christ in the portion Jesus literally. These teachings will help the Haitian people find God. "God is spirit' It is the spirit that gives life. Everything we do and everything we are repose on the spirit". The life style prescribed by Jesus is the true path to the spirit. Here are some of the teachings of Jesus Christ that can shape the life style we live:"love others as you love yourself, turn the other cheek, forgive your brother seven times seven, deny yourself and pick up your cross". These teachings I have explained their literal meanings and how to apply them in our life style. They are the true path to the spirit. "I am the way and the life; I am the life and the light. I am the light of the world. The inner light, the light that comes from the spirit with in can be found by fallowing the life style prescribed by Jesus Christ. Thou the Haitian music is an hypnotic and melodious music that is pleasant to hear yet the words associated with it pay homage to the dead, ancestral spirits, and it is fill with mistrust and sexual immoralities that the average person don't want to identify with. "God is not God for the dead but for the living". People shun away from death, but celebrate life. The undertone in the Haitian music is rooted in death, things that don't uplift the human spirit. I believe that is one of the reasons why people are slow to respond to the Haitian music. All in all I want to breed life into the Haitian culture. I want to bring God into it, enlarge it so that people can begin to express new feelings in the art, music and dance, feelings associated with life, not death.

The Only Possibility!

God is the only way out for the Haitian people. I have taken the steps to teach the Haitian people about their possibilities in Christ. I believe that man is primarily a spirit, encases in a human body; everything he does, is done by his spirit. God intent is to infuse man with His spirit so that he can enlarge man's spirit and turn man into his son and make him just like Him. The Haitian situation is two folds; it is an individual and collective, it is personal and universal. It is individual because it is rooted in our own tradition, the voodoo tradition. It is universal because there are forces at work in the world that universally restrained blacks and keep them behind. I want to teach the Haitian people about Negation, the force that restrained blacks and keep them behind; and also God's plan redeem humanity out of the grip of this force. The second fold of the Haitian problem is that it is an individual problem. God does not redeem man collectively, but individually. We each have our individual parts to play in our redemption. Though God made it available to all, we each must take the steps to accept it and make it part of our lives; <Individual lives> though these forces are in the world restraining blacks, there is no excuse for the chaos that is taken place in Haiti. The Haitian problem is first a personal problem in that it is rooted in our tradition. The root cause of the Haitian problem is in our voodoo tradition, the tradition that gives us our sense of pride. The tradition that gives us power is also the source of our demise for it is a power that works in reflection. It is a reflective power because it is a self promoted power that doesn't help meet the needs of others but itself. It does not improve lives; change the conditions of life for the Haitian people. You hear the term "A creator that does not creates anything" this is the voodoo tradition of the Haitian people. This tradition is the moving force in the Haitian culture. It is where the Haitian gets his identity. It promises power but when brought to light the power dissipates. It only operates at its best in the dark, never in the open. It is a subversive power, it is suggestive yet real and it is devastating to the Haitian people. I want to bring the light of Christ to the Haitian people. "It is the spirit that gives life". "I am the life and the light". It is the spirit that illuminates our path out of a dark situation, gives us the awareness and the cognitive ability to solve our problems.

The steps that I am taking are to educate the Haitian people about their possibilities in Christ. The light of Christ can help them break the chains of the tradition that have kept them behind, and help them break free of the universal forces that restrained blacks around the world. I want to teach them the life style prescribed by Jesus in His teachings; it can help them enlarge their spirit.

God does not mock; He has a law and order He wants to fallow if you want to find Him. Those who don't want to submit to that order will be left behind, left to bit around the bush and remain at the edge and never enter into the blessing. They will see the world prosper and excel, except them. I am talking about those who blatantly violate the law of God, using the law for their own benefit, promoting their own agenda. They will be part of the rejects, the left behind. They will have a power but a reflective power that doesn't uplift the human spirit. It is a power that doesn't give life. To enter the blessing you need to be imbued with the spirit. The voodoo tradition in Haiti does not lead man to the spirit of God, the source of power, the life giving spirit, but to death.

A Case for the Spirit

All in all we have been talking about the spirit, the source that sustains life. When we talk about the spirit I am talking about the energy that makes you who you are. One can say that the father of the Haitian liberation was Jean Jacques Dessalines, because he had spunk or spirit. There was something in him that burned and made it impossible for him to accept the injustice and mal treatment of the white French colonials. He wanted to pass on the same spirit to his fellow countrymen. He told them if they did not rise up against their white masters, they were not men; they were dead in spirit. What make this man great, it is not voodoo but the spirit. Because he lived a certain life style; because he stands for justice, he was able to fuel his spirit. Any man, who lives by the rules of the spirit, will have the spirit. Christ gave us a pattern of life style to fallow and if we fallow it, it will be impossible not to have the spirit burn in us. It takes the spirit to gives us awareness, waking us up so that we may be conscious of what is happening around us. When people live in the filth and not conscious of it, it is because their spirit is dead.

It Is the Spirit That Sustains Life

People want a justification for the human condition, they want to know the reason why things are the way they are. They want to know why things stay the same, stagnated and never change. The Haitian people want to know why Haiti lingered behind, stagnated. I want to tell them that the reason is to be found in the culture. In a culture where the dead people are worship as god, where people run to their ancestral spirits for strength rather than God, the results could not be otherwise.

When someone is dead there is an implication that the spirit has departed from the body or the body is dead because the spirit has departed from it; in either case both mean the same. “God is not God for the death but for the living”. People must learn to know when something is death and that life no longer resides in it; they must go on. They must leave the dead alone. The dead have no power to life, give life or promote life.

The seeming life that is in it is of the maggots that are trying to consume it. The same goes for when someone left a house, the seeming life that is in it is of the creepy crawlies that are roaming around since there is no one to clean up the house. What I am trying to say is that no matter how promising the cult of the dead seems for the Haitians, they are dealing with something that is dead, there is no life in it. The activities that they are involving in are strictly of the dead. The power they have are power of the dead, they don't promote life. I know that the Haitians are fascinated by the feats of the dead spirits; but what they failed to realized is that everything they do are limited to the dead; nothing in them promote life. The shivers they received when dealing with the dead spirits are not from a higher source; these spirits are limited to their worlds. They have no power in that world. They are using the Haitians, impressing them and make them believe that they do, but in fact they don't. They can only operate under cover in the dark, subversibly not in the open.

The results are obvious; we only have death to show for our beliefs. I was once a zealous seeker after money, I wanted to use gambling to achieve it. To me the victory was in succeeding to take the wealth of the wicked and use it for good. I want it to use gambling money to finance my organization. After many tries, I realized that gambling was a close door. Like a bird trying to escape flying through a glass door, not realizing between the freedoms it seeks and the gage is in is a barrier that separates them. We must realize that when a door is close we must move on to the next and when something is dead we must leave it alone. Without this ability to discern these two things we are bound to follow a dead spirit that has no life in him. We are bound to linger and lag behind. When I talk about spirit, I am talking about a discipline that leads to a source of power. Just like most Buddhists don't believe in a personal God, but they get access to the spirit of God by the discipline they apply in their lives. They may not have a personal relationship to God as the Christians do, but still by the life style they chose to live, they get access to the spirit of God. Why the Haitian life style does not lead to God? If there is a discipline applied in the voodoo religion why it is that God does not recognize it? I believe that it is so because that discipline does not lead to God; as I quoted earlier from the bible that “God is not God for the dead but for the living”.

Should we accept the status quo and resign ourselves to the fact that this is the way things are and there is nothing we can do about it. Should we undertake the task to change the world from within or change it from without? Martin Luther tried to change his world from without and had a certain degree of success, but I intent to change my world from within. I can do that by making people understand the mechanism that creates disparities between blacks and whites, keeps blacks restrained and behind. I want people to understand that the condition of the Blackman is the fuel that is driving this world. I don't want to ameliorate the condition of the Blackman by just doing cosmetic things but to change it radically. If that entailed changing the world system, so be it. The way this system works is that someone has to be a sacrifice, use as pond, become footstool for someone else to stand on. The condition of the Blackman is just that. I want to talk about it until people get it. I want to erase the stain that continued to impede the psyche of the Blackman, the stain of servitude and vilification. "For that He came to undo the works of darkness". I want to bring to the world the light of Christ that can help dispel the darkness of this world. The works of darkness is so shrouded in mystery that it required a revelation from God to shed light on them. I want to put out a website that will help people explore the difference between inner light and out manifestation of light. I want to show people how the forces of darkness tried to pass white as illumination for the world. This site will attempt to show how the condition of the Blackman is tied up with the very impulse that is driving humanity. I want to show how every aspects of human life is tied up with the condition of the Blackman. I want to take people by the horn and keep them from getting discourage, I want to keep people from resign themselves the condition of the Blackman. I want for people to start talking about it, I want to help unmask it and make it plain for people to understand it.

I want to help free the Blackman from the forces that keep him bound. I want to help free the Haitian from the fixation that keeps them living in a third world mentality. I want humanity see the Haitian condition in a new light; I want people to understand the forces responsible for the human condition in Haiti. I want people to understand the role the forces that restrain humanity as a whole play in the human condition in Haiti. I want people to see the Haitians ply as a direct consequence of the forces that restrained blacks in general all over the world.

Still bounded by the collective, still bounded by the universal, can the individual breaks the boundaries, the pull and the fixation that keep him bound ()

Seek ye the truth and the truth shall send you free". When a man enters this world he is born into a collective that determines his country he is bound and driven by the same need that is the driving force of his people. He is born into a race that determines his universal boundaries. He is bound by the same constraints and stigma placed on his race these limitations are universal because they belong to any individual of his race in whatever country his race is found. He is also born in a particular family that determines his personal limitations. How he balances all of these constraints placed on his life and his desire to be free determine his individual life. Life is a balancing act between balancing the constraints set God to guide his spirit and the impulses coming from his body. Life is a pull and push, a struggle between the forces for good and the forces for evil.

People are born into the world through a country as if it was a type of placement. Judgment is placed upon them as they enter the gate of birth; limitations, boundaries and constraints based on ancestral ties such as family ties such as race, color will factor in to set boundaries in each individual. Though a man may transcend the collective he is part of, he is still bound by it because he is forever links to the country of his birth, the gate through which he enters the world. "He will baptize you with spirit and fire". The life style prescribed by Jesus is the way to quicken the individual and help him pass the course and send him to the next level of awareness. The life style prescribed by Jesus makes a man fluid as the wind. Jesus said that those who are born of the spirit are like the wind, no one knows whence it comes nor where it goes as such are those who are born of the spirit. The teachings of Christ can make a man fluid that he transcends the collective and the universal ties that keep him bound. A man can become so fluid that people can no longer pin him down except to say that he is a human being, just a man without country race or color.

Prelude:

Making My Case for Getting Involved in the Haitian Situation!

“I will bless all the nations of the earth”

“In your seed I will bless all the family of the earth”.

“For that He came to undo the works of darkness, to destroy the works of the devil”

If these statements are true, they are therefore the premise for my work. If Haiti is a nation and if the Haitian people part of the human family, then I must preach Jesus Christ. I must preach Jesus Christ because in him lies the key for taking Haiti out of his dilemma. I must promote his works and his mission as my own; I must look for blessing for the Haitian people in His teachings; in fact for blacks in general. I must do so because they have come short of the blessing of God. I must do so because the key to the blessing of God is in the teachings of Jesus Christ. The teachings of Christ are pathways to the spirit. We need the spirit for everything. “It is the spirit that gives life” Everything that we do depend on it. I am talking about what gives us spunk and zest for life, the energy that enhances our cognitive faculties. I’ll show them the link between the teachings of Christ and the blessing of God.

“It is the spirit that gives life”

“I am the way and the life”

“I am the life and the light”

“I am the light of the world”

Go With the Flow

All I am interested in is to find out what is it that is holding back Haiti from moving forward. I want to be able to do something about Haiti no matter how impossible the task appears to be. If a man is willing to follow the constraints set by God then he has a chance to affect the collective and the impersonal. The situation in Haiti is a problem for Haitians as well as for black because it encompasses both the collective and universal. A man cannot resign to the fact that he is helpless in the face of overwhelming power against him. He must try even when he knows that his chance for success is unlikely. An example of a man who had tried and succeeded is Martin Luther king. He succeeded to make a dent in the collective and universal that had placed a grip over his people. Had he not tried, blacks in America would still be riding in the back of the buses and this country would still be at war with itself. Tremendous amount of resources would have been tied up in dealing with civil unrests; many contributions made by some Americans would not possible for the welfare of this country. I think that it is encumbering upon a man to try to change things no matter how insurmountable the odds may be against him. When I look at the situation in Haiti, I am not proud to be an Haitian; but I am fine to be just a human being. As a human being I feel that it is my duty to change the things that affect me in an adverse way. The conditions in Haiti affect me in an adverse way because they reflect upon me as an Haitian and part of the collective. I am an Haitian therefore whatever that affects Haiti affects me. Unlike the descendants of Syrian, Italian and other foreigners who were born in Haiti; they are fortunate to be able to hide behind their parents and grand parents' national origins. It is for that reason many of them hence on a plane bound outside Haiti loose their Haitians identity. I intent to change that by not only expose them to bring change at the core of the Haitian culture that could make any human being proud. The first thing that I am going to do is to re-align the Haitian belief system with the purpose of the universe. I want the Haitian culture to reflect the law and order of the universe for that I must reach to the core of the Haitian belief system. What is now wrong with Haiti is the soul of the Haitian people that is I must remold their feelings and their thoughts process to be in alignment with the will of the universe. Cultures that are not in alignment with the will of the universe will be left behind, cut off and cut out of the possibilities of this world; Haiti is one of such cultures that do not align with the will of the universe. They are stuck in the past, relying on an ancestral guidance that no longer fit to carry them forward. They are like former Indian civilizations that were here and no longer here now because of their insistence to stay with the past. Haitians don't realize that they are left behind; they continued to draw their strength from a source that is bound to the past and can no longer move forward. How do I convince the Haitian people that it is not their fault that they are left behind, but the source they rely on for their strength is wrong; the tradition that was passed to them by their ancestors? How can I convince the Haitian people that they must relinquish their identity with the very tradition that give them power if they want to move forward. I must convince them that there is more to them than the world has seen; if they relinquish the past. I must convince them that the source that they are holding on so dear is their downfall

Comparative Study

Something fundamental in our belief system must undergo an overall; something in it must be re-evaluated because that something is pinning our country down. We cannot grow as a nation because we are pin down. I know that the soul of the Haitian people is embedded in the voodoo tradition; to let go of it is to give up our identity; however I must ask every Haitian to trust me. The reason that I am questioning our beliefs system is for our own good. I am an Haitian; I know what it is to have an identity crisis. Most well off Haitians as soon as they take a plane for outside the country don't consider themselves Haitians. I know their ply and for good reason. They have been look down upon and their financial status haven't spare them the humiliation of been considered a no body, just another Haitian. I must ask you to trust me; I don't want to take away anything from the Haitian culture that can help diminish our standing in the world. I want to reassure you that the only way for us to find ourselves, our true identity and our standing in the world is to let go of ourselves. We must let go of those things that held us back, forget those things that rob us of our place in history as a nation and begin to embrace those things that will contribute to our growth and development. This is our only sure way to reclaim our place in history. We are losing our place in history right now because we have been left behind. Our culture cannot keep up with the trend of time, our tradition cannot support our people, feed our people, provide comfort for our people; our people must seek refuge elsewhere outside the country to find a better life. Something must change; I am asking all of you who are afraid to let go of the things that holding us back for fear of losing our identity; I must reassure you by letting go you will find your true place in history and that people will look down on you no more and you may become the symbol of hope for many. I know that many of you will be on the defensive; saying that there is nothing wrong with our tradition and our belief system; our tradition is what gives us strength and power. Many will congregate against me because of it; but I will say to you that all I am interested in is to find the reason why our tradition cannot help improve the living condition of Haitians. I'll say to you that there is something in it that I need to undo in our belief system, whatever it is that has stunned the growth of Haiti as a nation.

I want to do a comparative analysis of the Jewish culture with that of the Haitian culture. I want to find out what is it in the Jewish culture that make the Jew turn a country like Israel, the size of Haiti, a country with eighty percent desert land into a prosperous land, a booming economy with burgeoning art, and science. I want to see what is it in the Haitian culture that makes it stagnated and lingering behind. I want to know what it is in the Jewish culture that can be accounted for their success. I come to the conclusion that there is a duality in the world, a kind of struggle between the forces for good and the forces for evil; a kind of duality depicted in the bible by the story of a twin birth where one child represents the seed for good and the other the seed for evil. I want to know why despite all the efforts to plant the seed the seed of good and of righteousness in Haiti the land always end up choking the seed. To my knowledge no one has yet tried to good in Haiti and not end up dead and those who start with good intentions always end up doing the wrong things. Nothing that stands up for right and justice can grow in the land of Haiti. One has to stop and ponder upon this fact why can good take hold in the land; why those who want to do well in Haiti always end up dead while the country continued to stagnate and decay. One has to become familiar with what God is promoting in the universe. God is promoting good in the universe; this is why those who are seeding seeds of wickedness can never prosper, nor excel and move forward. I believe that God has put a block against them. God has said that He is not promoting the seed of wickedness in the universe. "Thou they build, I will tow down". God has not given them and heritage to be glorified and proud of. This is why it is dawn on me that there is no way for the Haitian tradition to prosper and excel; God has put a block against it. Like a boat that is tied down and cannot move as such the Haitian tradition is tied down by God. It is time for the Haitian people to recognize that they are tied down and what is tied them down is in the culture, the tradition, in the belief system and the knowledge that has passed on to us by our ancestors, it is in our source of power. The power we get from the knowledge passed on to us by our ancestors is a dark power; it does not operate in the light' It is a power that has not bring us any improvement in our lives.

I want to know why the Jews prosper amidst of so much difficulties; I want to know how they managed to take a country about the size of Haiti and turn it into a prosperous land. I want to know if it is because they are on the side of god doing what the universe wants. I want to know if they are been guided by the forces for good.

In this world there is indeed a twin; two separate cultures with two separate realities. Why do the Jews prosper and excel and why do the seed of good take hold in the land. Why does God promote that kind of seed in the universe, seed of justice and righteousness, trust, kindness, community and not our seed? The Israelites prosper because there is a sense of community, the land welcome anyone who wants to plant seeds for good. It is through that kind of seed that God will bless the whole of humanity. I want to change Haiti, not to turn is into a copy cat, but to allow the land to welcome those who want to plant justice, righteousness, prosperity and to forgo those things that held us back.

Le Monde en Duel

“Indeed there was twin in her womb”

I am doing a comparative study between the Jewish culture and the Haitian culture. In this case both cultures are opposites and similar and that both are of two countries approximately the same size and that both people hold on to their belief systems very dearly and both people have strong traditions. The difference between the two is that one is allowed to prosper and excel while the other one stagnate and linger behind. I want to know what is it in one culture that allows it to flourish while the other one decays. There is a fundamental difference between the two cultures and there is a cause responsible for this difference and I want to know what it is. These two cultures are dissimilar yet the same in many ways. It is a kind of duality, a pair of opposites of a black and white kind of situation. I want to know why one culture failed and why the other one doesn't. I believe that in finding the cause for the disparities between the two cultures, I will arrive at a solution or an understanding that can help Haiti make the transition from being a left behind to an excelling culture. The universe seems to have an aim; I believe that this aim seems to point upward toward upper mobility. I believe that the universe has an aim because everything around us seems to point in one direction, upward. Nature seems to favor the upward path. God is promoting the upward movement of the universe. Science says that the universe is expending, moving forward; I must agree with science. We cannot fight the forces of nature or we run the risk of been left behind. Therefore it is justified of me to look for ways to help Haiti move forward. In that case I want to see what is it in the Haitian culture that has tied it down and kept it from moving forward. Everything point toward one cause responsible for keeping Haiti tied down; that one thing is the voodoo tradition. I said it earlier because of our belief system, our tradition pass on to us by our ancestors we inherit something that God is no longer promoting; we are stock because of it. God has put a block in our path. “God is not God for the dead but fore the living”. God does not promote what is dead. We are holding on to the cult of the dead, placing our guidance on our ancestors rather than God. God is not promoting them; He is promoting Himself, His Son, His justice and His righteousness. They are not helping us moving forward because god is blocking them. The reality is simple, God is not allowing them to be our guide for the future; anything they stand for will be blocked. So it is reasonable to seek our guidance and our protection elsewhere. We cannot fight against the aim of the universe; we cannot fight with God. His will be done on earth as it is done in heaven. As a child cannot enter back into his mother’s womb as such we cannot change the will of God.

The World as We Perceive It

How does reality hit us? Who determine what we will experience in this world? The world each of us will experience is a gate to a blissful world or a gate to a hellish world. When we are born into the world we are born into a state of fixation. We driven by a particular need; that need becomes the driving force of our lives. Our attention is fixated on that need and everything we do revolve around that need. That need becomes the level of awareness that we are functioning in the world or the filter we see the world through. We see and understand the world through that level of need. We deal with people according to that level. This is another way of explaining the human condition. If there is anything that makes sense in explaining the reason why there is so much poverty in the world, so many disparities between blacks and whites, it is Negation. If we want to find the cause of suffering in the world we have to look at Negation. If we want to find a way a solution we must look for the spirit and the way to the spirit is through Jesus Christ. “I am the way and the life”. Jesus prescribed to us a life style that is certain to lead us to the spirit. All I am interested in is establish the link between the constraints and the restraints of the Blackman on earth with something or with a cause; and the cause is Negation. Everything else is superfluous. I have established clearly the steps that lead humanity to Negation, why Negation affects blacks in an adverse way, the adversarial system of this world, the hope for the Blackman and the redemption for humanity as a whole.
